Dear Dr Stirling

Attended: 05/06/2003 Consultant: Andrew Bathgate TRANSPLANT SURGERY

I write to let you know that this gentleman was seen in the clinic on the 5th June with his wife. At that time I told him that his biopsy of his liver had shown hepatocellular carcinoma. We have seen his CT's at our x-ray meeting and it is clear from this imaging that it is multi-focal and therefore would not be appropriate for any form of intervention. The only thing we can do is to reduce his immunosuppression, which I have done to 0.5mgs of Tacrolimus at night.

Examination does reveal palpable right lobe of liver and review will be in three months time.

Yours sincerely

Andrew Bathgate
