 I would be grateful for your (1) diagnosis and advice on ☐ (2) diagnosis and treatment of ☐ the above named patient. A brief outline of history, symptoms and signs is given below:

Dear Doctor

This 40 year old man presented at the surgery last week with a painless swelling in his right breast. He noticed it almost a month before that date at the ~~the~~ lateral side of his right nipple at 11 o'clock. Mr Tamburrini did not recall any discharge from the nipple or any skin abnormalities. There has been no trauma or serious illness in his recent medical history. The only illness he recalls over the last two years is occasional mild dyspepsia which has been treated with Cimetidine and Ranitidine. Mr Tamburrini is a non smoker, but mentioned his habit of consuming large quantities of alcohol. ←X

Examination revealed a swelling of less than 1/2cm with a somewhat irregular shape and a bit tender on palpation. It is not connected to the overlying skin, which is normal. There are no lymph nodes palpable in the inguinal and axilla regions. The abdomen is soft and non tender, there is no distention, the liver and spleen are not palpable. The left breast does not present with a similar swelling. Apart from the aforementioned dyspepsia and alcohol abuse, there is no major illness in his previous medical history. FBC and biochemistry reveals a slightly elevated MCV with an AsT of 121, ALT of 121. The other parameters were normal.
