Dear Dr. Foster,

I have now received the comments on your paper, entitled: "Studies on the stability of VIII:C during the manufacture of a factor VIII concentrate for clinical use."

Both referees are of the opinion that in principle, your paper should be published in Vox Sanguinis. However, they both have some comments, which I feel should be taken into account. Would you please consider these comments and send me a revised copy of the manuscript?

With kindest regards,
 yours sincerely,
